A paragraph set in a narrow box, so that its lines are stretched and shrunk with the font's expansion, more than once each.

after the picture, in its paragraph: 4, 5, 6.

A paragraph that makes the empty control sequence after registers past 255 (the run's own locations past the fixed ones), and reads them: 7, 8, 9.

Protrusion at the margin of a paragraph long enough to break into lines, "quoted" at its start, and the empty name defined.